

Terms of Use

Please carefully read and review the notices, disclaimers, limitations, terms, provisions and conditions herein and in the privacy policy (click on the privacy policy link to go directly to the privacy policy) (together, "Terms of Use") before using this site or its features. Any user who accepts, assents and agrees to be bound by the Terms of Use is welcome to use this Site and its features, subject to the Terms of Use.

The term "Site" herein includes this website and all websites owned or controlled by Shadyside Presbyterian Church ("Church"), including but not limited to all applications, features, services and information on or available through this Site (collectively, "services").

This Site, and all of its features and services, is offered and made available, and your use of this Site and its features, is subject to and conditioned on your full and unqualified acceptance of, agreement to and compliance with the Terms of Use. Do not use this Site or any of its features if you do not understand and agree to the Terms of Use without qualification. By using this Site, including but not limited to viewing or using any or all of its content or features, you acknowledge that you have read the Terms of Use, fully and completely understand and agree to them without qualification, and that your use of this Site, including but not limited to viewing or using any or all of its content or features is acceptance of and agreement to, and a representation and warranty that you shall comply with, the Terms of Use.

These Terms of Use apply to you, whether you are an individual or an entity acting by or through you as its authorized representative, or whether you represent, act or purport to represent or act for or on behalf of another person or entity, or yourself alone, in whatever capacity you use this Site, including but not limited to as customers, members or visitors. Under the Terms of Use, (a) a customer is an organization or person who has entered into a service agreement with Church and uses the Site and provides access to the Site as a service to others ("Customer"), as well as an individual whom a Customer has authorized to interact with the Site; (b) a member is a person who has registered to interact with certain features of the site; and (c) a visitor is any person or entity who visits the site for any reason whatsoever.

You represent and warrant by using this Site that you are at least 18 years of age, of sound mind, competent to enter into a legally binding agreement and have authority to bind yourself or the person or entity you represent and to be bound hereby.

All features on this Site, including but not limited to features which may be accessed without monetary charge, and particularly information and services which do require subscription and acceptance by Church as a Customer, are subject to and shall be governed by these Terms of Use. In addition, without limiting the foregoing, certain features offered or made available on or through this Site may be available only to individuals or entities who expressly agree to certain additional specific terms (such as those pertaining to ACS Technologies' software), provisions, conditions, notices and disclaimers (hereinafter "Service Agreement" with respect to Customers). Agreement with the Service Agreement shall not limit these Terms of Use or their universal applicability to use or access of this Site.

At this time, access to this Site and some of its features may be offered free of monetary charge. Because there may be no monetary charge for access to this Site and use of its features, your acceptance of, assent to, and agreement and compliance with the Terms of Use is consideration for your use and access. Additional consideration is necessary for access or use of the Site or the Services as a Customer, which is set forth more fully in the Service Agreement, but all users are subject to the Terms of Use. Church reserves the right to charge money for access to this Site or any of its content or features in the future.

All applicable provisions of state, federal and local law, equitable principles and regulations are incorporated into these Terms of Use, including but not limited to the Service Agreement for Customers, to the same extent as if set forth herein or in the Service Agreement. The Terms of Use, including but not limited to the Service Agreement for Customers, are subject to any and all applicable provisions of state, federal, and local law, equitable principles, regulations, orders, decrees, requests or process of any court, tribunal of competent jurisdiction or law enforcement authority from any jurisdiction, and nothing contained in these Terms of Use, including but not limited to the Service Agreement for Customers, shall impair in any way Church's right to comply or govern its actions as and to the extent Church deems necessary with respect to any of same. If a court of competent jurisdiction determines that any term, provision or condition in the Terms of Use violates or does not comply with any applicable law, principle of equity, or regulation and any term, provision or condition included within the Terms of Use, shall be determined by said court to be void, invalid, of no effect, or unenforceable, in whole or in part, for any reason whatsoever, such portion and any other portion or term, provision or condition affected shall be construed consistent with applicable law, or be deemed modified solely to the extent necessary to reflect as nearly as possible the original intent of the parties, and the remaining portions shall remain in full force and effect. To the extent that anything in or associated with this Site or Church is in conflict with these Terms of Use, these Terms of Use take precedence.
